

Contents

Acknowledgments xi

Introduction 1

- [1] Catholic California The Historic Junction of Religion, Region, and Law in Perez v. Lippold (1948) 11
- [2] The Historical Origins of American Laws on Interracial Sex and Marriage The Role of Religion and Region 51
- [3] Church Authority or States' Rights? Protestant and Catholic Theologies of Marriage 69
- [4] Noah's Sons and Common Origins in Adam and Eve Protestant and Catholic Theologies of Race 91
- [5] States' Rights and the Southern White Protestant Theology of Race in Antimiscegenation Laws and Cases, 1867–1964 131
- [6] The Southern Lingua Franca of Race Judge Leon M. Bazile and White Catholics 159

Epilogue A Postmodernist's Reflections on History and Knowledge 179

Notes 193

Bibliography 235

Index 263