

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments / xiii

Introduction / 1

PART I. ONE-PARTY DOMINANCE, 1800–1861

1 A One-Party South ★ 11

REPUBLICAN ASCENDANCY

The Republicans in Power / 12

Federalists in the South / 16

The Virginia Dynasty / 21

The Missouri Crisis, 1819–1821 / 32

2 A Two-Party South ★ 38

WHIGS AND DEMOCRATS

A System of National Parties / 41

The Whig Party in the South / 46

John C. Calhoun's Search for Southern Unity / 52

3 A One-Party South Again ★ 60

DEMOCRATIC ASCENDANCY

Sectional Issues in National Politics / 60

Party Differences Disappear / 63

The Southern Whigs Disappear / 72

One-Party Politics Returns / 79

The Secession Crisis / 83

PART II. NO-PARTY POLITICS, 1861–1865

4 Politics without Parties ★ 97

THE CONFEDERACY

The Confederate Constitution / 98

The Confederacy's Political System / 102

PART III. ONE-PARTY HEGEMONY, 1865–1901

5 Party Politics under Assault ★ 117

RECONSTRUCTION

The North's Terms / 117

The South's Response / 122

Illegitimacy and Insurgency in the Reconstructed South / 126

Regime Change in the Reconstruction South / 136

6 Achieving Democratic Hegemony ★ 142

THE 1880S

The Southern Democrats in Power / 145

The Challenge of the Virginia Readjusters / 151

7 Eliminating the Opposition ★ 157

THE 1890S

The Populist Insurgency / 159

Disfranchisement / 169

A New Electoral System for the South / 177

PART IV. ONE-PARTY SYSTEM, 1901–1965

8 Democrats and Demagogues in the Solid South ★ 185

The Solid South as a Political System / 185

The Southern Demagogue / 194

9 Reform and Reaction in the Solid South ★ 204

Southern Progressivism / 204

The South in the Wilson Administration / 212

Business Progressivism and the “Benighted South” / 218

10 The New Deal Challenge to the Solid South ★ 225

Thunder from the South: Huey Long / 225

The South in the New Deal / 231

The New Deal in the South / 244

11 The Liberal Challenge in the 1940s ★ 248

The South and the Home Front / 249

Postwar Repercussions and Dangers / 251

The South’s Widening Veto over Social Policy / 259

12 The Solid South under Attack ★ 263

WHITE DEFIANCE

The Dixiecrat Revolt / 265

“Massive Resistance” / 276

13 The Solid South under Attack ★ 288

BLACK GAINS

The Campaign for Civil Rights and the Vote / 288

Securing the Right to Vote / 299

PART V. FROM ONE PARTY TO TWO, 1965-1994

14 Old Responses and New Directions, 1965-1980 ★ 307

Stoking the White Backlash: George Wallace / 309

Southern Democrats in the Carter Decade / 319

The End of the Solid South in Congress / 327

15 The Emergence of a Two-Party South since 1980 ★ 334

Conclusion / 352

Notes / 359

Bibliography / 369

Index / 379

ILLUSTRATIONS AND MAPS

Illustrations

Thomas Ritchie / 24

John C. Calhoun / 55

Alexander H. Stephens / 63

“We Accept the Situation” / 121

“This Is a White Man’s Government” / 132

“Death at the Polls, and Free from ‘Federal Interference’” / 144

William Mahone / 152

Tom Watson / 162

“The Vampire That Hovers over North Carolina” / 175

Jeff Davis addressing a crowd in Centre Point / 192

James K. Vardaman, Tom Heflin, and Ollie James / 195

Governor Jeff Davis / 198

Equal Suffrage League of Richmond / 207

Senator Huey Long / 227

President Franklin Roosevelt at Camp Fechner / 236

The Little Rock crisis / 284

Fannie Lou Hamer / 297

The signing of the Voting Rights Act, 6 August 1965 / 302

Governor George C. Wallace / 308

President Ronald Reagan / 339

Maps

- 1 The South / 3
- 2 The Missouri Compromise, 1820 / 34
- 3 The Kansas-Nebraska Act, 1854 / 75
- 4 The Republican Presence in the South, 1980–2008 / 344